

Who is eligible?

To be eligible to receive services, you must:

- have a disability, injury, or health condition
- be between 14 and 67 years of age
- be an Australian resident
- not be studying full-time
- not be working at or above your assessed work capacity.

You do not need to be receiving an Income Support Payment to access support under Inclusive Employment Australia.

How to find out more about Inclusive Employment Australia

For more information about Inclusive Employment Australia, go to dss.gov.au/inclusive-employment-australia

If you need an interpreter, call TIS National on 13 14 50 and ask for 1800 805 260. You will speak to the National Customer Service Line.

If you are d/Deaf, hard-of-hearing or have speech communication difficulties, use the National Relay Service to contact the National Customer Service Line.

For more information, go to About the National Relay Service (NRS) | Access Hub via accesshub.gov.au

Inclusive Employment Australia

Finding careers for people with disability

We'll help you:

get ready for work,

find a job

and keep it.

What is Inclusive Employment Australia?

Inclusive Employment Australia is all about you.

We provide tailored support and services to make it easier for you to find work.

Your provider will work with you to understand your needs and work goals. Then they will match you with the right employer and job.

Inclusive Employment Australia providers have expertise working with people with a range of disabilities or backgrounds. You will get to choose your provider at any time.

Create a personal job plan and gain support to reach your work goals.

What can an Inclusive Employment Australia provider help with?

We'll work with you to create your plan. Everyone's path is different.

Your provider will:

take the time to understand you

learn your needs and goals

create a job plan

help you get ready for work with skills or training support you to find a job assist with workplace adjustments.

At Inclusive Employment Australia, we put you first

- Choose your provider at any time.
- More providers with experience working with people with different disabilities and backgrounds.
- Flexibility and time to understand your skills and what supports you need.
- No time limits on how long you will be supported by your provider.
- Support, even if you can only work a few hours a week.